Everybody can see it: we live in a time in which everything is changing, and so we are changing, too. The Hosts of Heaven describe the way and the process through which Earth is changing from the material world of today into a much more spiritual world tomorrow—Terra—in a very detailed manner and what it means to us as the future inhabitants of Terra. I believe and trust in these wonderful Messages, and even more—I feel that they are true!

—Uli Flender, Germany

Operation Terra is channelings from the spiritual realm which describe in highest clarity the situation of our time and the developments towards a new Earth and her citizens. Those who experience these channelings as true within their hearts and resonate with them, are the targets. They learn about their destiny on the new Earth, "Terra." Other Earth-citizens will not be so happy with the Messages. They belong to other groups with other destinies. However all will recognize that these Messages fit seamlessly together with others, which speaks for their authenticity and their independence.

—Dr. Edgar Schättle, Frankfurt am Main, Germany

Operation Terra has provided insightful keys to many pieces of the greater puzzle, which activate the cellular levels in bringing forth their remembrance of origin, as the Atoms to the Adams for the Bio-genesis of the Greater Light. This is a "must read" message, delivered through its scribe, from the Universal Consciousness.

—Lee Guilmette Chin, Seattle, Washington, USA

I consider the Operation Terra website one of the most important on the Internet. The [Messages] all resonate well with me, and I have sent most of them to my mailing list. I will continue to look forward to future [Messages] from Lyara.

—Sue Potter, USA

Operation Terra has provided me with a view of a world that is our destiny. The words used have rung "True," deep in my soul. This is divinely inspiring material.

—Doug Crandall, The Barefoot Poet, USA

From the heart... This presentation of the Eternal Verities is the clearest and most concise I have ever read. Terra is my unfulfilled dream, which I recognize is mine to live at last.

ABOUT VOLUMES TWO & THREE

There is no question in anyone's mind that the world changed dramatically on September 11, 2001. On September 8, 2001, the Hosts made an uncharacteristic statement in the Message entitled, "The Time of Ingathering," which is included in Volume Two. They said, simply enough, "...you—as a planetary population—are about to enter a time of deepening strife and travail." The attacks on the World Trade Center and the Pentagon occurred 2½ days later. To the best of my knowledge, that Message was the only source of publicly available information that accurately forecast those events.

Immediately after the shock of that fateful day, the Hosts were there for us again, delivering a relatively rapid series of Messages to offer comfort and a positive frame of reference within which to view the events that have unfolded since then. From the letters I received during that timeframe, those Messages truly saved lives and helped many people cope in a world gone mad. It was truly a wakeup call for humanity and many have since found a haven in the Operation Terra material and philosophy.

Unfolding world events now clearly support the truth of the prophecies made in this book. Volume Two picks up where Volume One leaves off, lifting our understanding to a higher, yet deeper level, and charts our course through the stormy seas of massive global change with the same characteristic wisdom, compassion, and love that is the Hosts' energetic signature.

As the Hosts indicated at the end of Volume Two, Volume Three would be different in both content and tone, and this has now proved true, also. As these final Messages come in, they are clearly meant to guide us through the final phase of our preparation to complete with 3D Earth and move on to colonize Terra.

The Messages in Volume Three are only available through the Operation Terra Web site at www.operationterra.com. Volumes One and Two can be purchased on the Web throughout the world, or through your local bookstore.

I wish you well on your journey, wherever it may lead you.

Love and blessings,

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

In truth, everything that has appeared in my life has brought me to where I am and to the writing of this book, so I thank ALL of my "teachers," whether you gave me a positive example or the other kind, because you all gave me the opportunity to see my Self in you. That being said, there are some individuals that I wish to acknowledge as special "teachers" for me of the positive kind:

My cousin Lois, who was the first to tell me that I was "counter-culture" (I didn't know what that meant except that nobody I ever voted for got elected!), and who showed me that material wealth could be handled responsibly and with sensitivity and generosity. Without her help, this book would not have been printed;

Lois's husband Manny, who was the first person I met who embodied heart-centered wisdom, and thanks go to both of them for their generosity, hospitality, and warm acceptance of me in my exploration of life;

My beloved husband Michael, who has been the most difficult teacher of all, but who has also supported me, nourished me, and gifted me in so many ways that they are beyond counting;

My friend Jon, who was a fellow traveler on the path during the time when I was most alone. He was unrelenting in his ferociousness for the truth and at all times held me accountable for the highest I was capable of;

Jan, who shared so many of the days of my awakening and reminded me to "lighten up" when I got too serious;

My father, who taught me that "doing the right thing" was more important than expediency, and gave me a solid sense of ethics on which to base my life;

My mother, who taught me a lot about what I did NOT want to be like, but who also modeled a deep loyalty to her family and was "there" for me in the ways I most needed her to be during the hard times;

OPERATION TERRA

Dr. Jacqueline Krohn, M.D. for guiding me back to functionality when I was disabled, for her courage, and for her willingness to tell me the truth about my situation so that I could come to terms with it and move on;

Rabbi Eric Greenbaum, my 8th grade Sunday school teacher, who was the first person I met that had transcended his religion, who told me that God was in all things, and who showed me that there are "saints" everywhere;

Charles P. Overton, Jr., my elementary school science teacher, who was the only teacher that encouraged me to make use of my intellectual abilities, and for showing me the magazine article about the metamorphosis of butterflies when I was 10 years old;

and to Meusch, Gretchen, Mom Cat, Speckles, Geronimo, Amador and Starbright, who have taught me about life, birth, death, authenticity and love, as only animals can.

the days ahead." From the vision I had received in 1982 (see Volume Two), I knew exactly what was meant by "the days ahead," and I resonated with that intent immediately. In that moment, the vision of Operation Terra was born, although I still did not know exactly how I would proceed with it. Two days later, they "rang my ear" again, and this time they made a specific request: "Would you be willing to deliver a series of Messages for us and to share them with others?" In all of my years of training, I had never been asked to share any of the material I received with anyone else. This would be another step out on the limb for me, another step of deeper faith in the unseen and the continued willingness to "put my neck up to the knife" in the service to which I am called.

For those who have never "channeled," a little explanation might be helpful here. I am naturally reclusive. For most of my life, I have been much more comfortable "hiding" than being on the stage, although I do confess that the few times I have been "on center stage," I have largely enjoyed it (childhood piano recitals being the exception!). To be a good channel, one must open oneself up in a way that does not allow one to "preview" or "edit" what comes through. One must train one's ego to step aside and be willing to say whatever is presented, even if it might be "wrong" or "crazy," or any number of other fear-based labels about how it will be perceived/received by others. For me, this results in chronic "stage fright" until the flow begins and I move fully into it.

Given the nature of telepathic communication, there is no way to separate the source of the material from the personality, vocabulary, and biases of the person bringing it through. Not all people are well trained or suited for this kind of work, and there is no material that is not colored in some way by the channel. Those of us who attempt to do this work have to take certain risks in being willing to bring through information from invisible sources and can only hope that what we bring through is of high quality and serves a positive purpose.

DISINFORMATION

This is further complicated by the fact that there are entities that seek to use a channel to feed through disinformation, with the aim of discrediting the channel and sowing confusion in the listener, so that the result is skewed to their particular agenda.

It takes constant "testing" and discernment to discriminate as to when something feels "off," and it is a very tricky business indeed to attempt to do this with any degree of purity. In the end, one has to surrender up ALL attachments, even to being "right" or "good." As one's skills mature and one's spiritual opening progresses, the material deepens accordingly, and I can see that in my own work, as well. That is how our unfolding proceeds.

I am often asked about how I receive this information. I am fully conscious and fully present, although in a deeply altered state that I have trained myself to enter at will. The transmission comes in as a stream of impressions, which I perceive with all of my subtle senses. They are "felt" and experienced, then translated by my brain into "words in my head." If I'm not sure of a word, I may try to use a different word to convey the meaning, and can then feel which word is the right one to use. The written words that come through me are carrier waves for the Light codes that accompany them. When you read the words, the Light codes stream into you. If they find matching codes within you, the Light codes will activate the internal remembrance of the information you already contain and you will recognize it as "yours."

The Messages presented here are exactly what came through, to the best of my ability to translate the telepathic impress. I offer them with an open hand and an open heart. If they speak to you, you will know it in your heart, even if your mind has many questions. If they seem like just so many words on a page to you, or you can't tell the qualitative difference between this material and so much else that is out there, then perhaps this isn't "yours," and your path leads somewhere else. No blame—either for you or for me.

There is a great sorting out taking place, and these Messages are intended for those whose Oversouls have chosen the journey to Terra as their next step on their path. If these words speak to your heart, then welcome to the family! We are gathering and we will share in this future of Terra together (if not, then something else is intended for your life) and I bless you and your path in going there. We are all Love-in-action and God-in-expression so no path is better than any other path. They just present different scenes along the way.

“...the harvest is the end of the world;
and the reapers are the angels.”

—Matthew 13:39

OPERATION TERRA

June 30, 1999

IN THE BEGINNING, this planet was created with a certain destiny path in mind. Its creators (the “elohim,” a group of vast, intelligent beings who combined forces to create this sector of reality) envisioned a rich environment where the planet’s theme of “seeking harmony in diversity” could play out. However, there were other beings that saw an opportunity to insert themselves into the paradigm and eventually did so, so successfully that the original blueprint for the planet was essentially abrogated and converted to another agenda entirely.

Every time the elohim would project expressions of themselves into the physical plane and try to restore the original plan and agenda, the interlopers would eventually undermine their efforts and redirect the planet toward their own aims and ambitions. The world you see around you is the result of this interaction. A relatively few individuals adhere to the original standards, based on love for and responsibility toward the entire planet and its occupants, but many more individuals put their own interests above those of the whole and engage in destructively competitive behaviors that eventually harm everyone and everything.

Now, however, it is time to restore the planet to her original destiny path. The behaviors that have destroyed so much of her diversity and beauty will be put to an end. Those who can “hear” these words will save much more than themselves. They will be candidates for the opportunity to inhabit the Earth after she has risen to her glorified state, the "New Earth," Terra, and they will be active participants WITH THE PLANET in creating a "heaven" on Earth.

In a relatively short time from now, many things will begin playing out that were prophesied to occur sooner, but had been delayed so that the message for change could reach the greatest number of potential "recruits." Now, however, all must go forward in order for the planet to meet her appointment with her own destiny.

All things have a proper time. "To every thing, there is a season" is a good way to put it, and right now it is almost autumn, the time to harvest what has been sown. Each lifeform has had many thousands of years to perfect itself and to evolve to its present state. Many species are simply leaving because there is no longer support for them to remain here. Drastic action is needed now, if anything is to be preserved.

The planet does not need its lifeforms. There are many planets without anything above the mineral kingdom. It is total arrogance on the part of even the best-intentioned humans to speak of "saving the planet." The planet can get along just fine on her own. But the planet is a conscious being, and the soul of the planet made an agreement as part of its incarnation as a physical reality. It agreed to host a diversity of lifeforms, and to interact with and sustain those lifeforms, in keeping with the planet's own destiny path. To this end, she has allowed much abuse of her body while patiently waiting for humans to "get" the message of what they were doing to that which sustains them.

Without Earth's water, air and soil, there would not be any life at all. Even viruses and bacteria need water. Everything needs physical nurturance until it is able to manifest its needs directly from the underlying matrix of consciousness that supports and informs physical reality. But humans, in their blind pursuit of their own survival regardless of the cost, have inadvertently been destroying the very matrix that gives them life and sustains them. The human species has placed itself in competition with everything else on the planet—animals, plants, trees, birds, fish, and other humans—and has robbed, raped, and pillaged the very planet upon which they depend for everything.

Everything humans consume or use comes from the planet, be it food, clothing, oxygen, shelter, automobiles, or computers. All of the materials that are used to manufacture all of the goods that people use come from the planet. And yet the slaughter goes on, as the oceans are poisoned, the forests are felled, and the water is pumped out of the ground when local rainfall is not sufficient to support people's needs. Unless this is stopped, there will be nothing left, and the people will suffer a terrible, slow decline, as they fight with one another over ever-dwindling resources. Too few care. The lawmakers serve their own agendas; there is simply not enough of a force for change to matter at this late date in the process.

So now we give you this warning and we also give you a promise. For those of you who can "hear," know that the ticket is love in your heart. By love, we do not mean the mushy, romanticized stuff of your movies and novels. By love, we mean the absence of fear, trust in the Creator, and a willingness to put one's life on the line for the truth. In a very short time now, those traits are going to be the only ones that gets one the "ticket to ride." A great wave of change is building now that will soon sweep the petty affairs of humans away, a great wave of purification and the cleansing of everything that is not in alignment with the destiny of this planet.

The Elohim are here. They have incarnated as ordinary humans in order to act as human lightning rods, to draw down and anchor the energy of change, and to assist in the birthing of the new age. It will be necessary to evacuate those who are destined to inhabit Terra, for the necessary cleansing will render the present body of Earth uninhabitable for a time. The evacuees will be taken in their physical bodies to another location, where they will prepare themselves for the colonization of Terra, the "New Earth." The remainder of this information will deal with the details of that process and paint a vision that those who can "hear" will be able to hold in their hearts and minds and that will help them to understand the necessity of the cleansing that is soon to take place.

Amen, Adonoy Sabayoth. We are the Hosts of Heaven.*

* NOTE: The phrase "Adonoy Sabayoth" is a shortened version of "Kadosh, kadosh, kadosh, Adonoy Sabayoth," which is Hebrew for "Holy, holy, holy (is the) Lord of Hosts." This particular spelling is a transliteration that reflects the Ashkenazic Hebrew dialect and pronunciation that I was raised with, and it differs from the more widely accepted "Adonai Tsebayoth." This term is used throughout the Messages as a sort of "seal of authenticity" by my sources, to certify that what I have received is indeed from them.

Many people have asked me who the Hosts of Heaven are. They have variously referred to themselves as being your brothers and sisters in the many mansion worlds of the One Infinite Creator, the "angelic hosts," the "Legions of Michael," and the Hosts that are referred to in the expression "Lord of Hosts" (Adonoy Sabayoth). They reside in the frequency bands "... that contain those you would call Masters, angels, and archangels," and "work with the Office of the Christ." (The latter is not a particular person, but an office or position within the spiritual hierarchy.)

ON BECOMING A "HUMAN" BEING

July 1, 1999

WHAT PEOPLE HAVE COME TO THINK OF AS A HUMAN BEING actually is a hybrid creature, born of the manipulations of the interlopers. In the beginning, the Adamic seed was created whole and fully formed. It was designed to act as a steward of whatever world it found itself upon. To this end, it had the power of reason and the power to love and care for things other than itself. It had a unique genetic pattern that also allowed it full access to the higher dimensions and the wisdom contained in the Akasha, or Hall of Records.

The interlopers were originally from this same seed, but a perversion crept in. Somehow the ability to love and care for others became distorted and replaced by a sense of disconnection that resulted in fear. In this fearful state, everything and everyone became perceived as an enemy, someone or something that posed a threat and therefore had to be controlled or dominated.

From this original distortion of the design for the Adamic race, a dark spiral began to unfurl and to block and interfere with the Light from Source Creator. It began to spread itself through the many worlds of the Father, and wherever it went, this distortion created chaos.

The life force is principally an ordering force. It acts against the tendency toward entropy. In any system, if some energy is not sustaining the system, it will dissolve and return to a more elemental state. In all systems, there is an ordering force or there would not be form. The evolutionary imperative is toward more complexity, toward more complex systems. The force of entropy is counter-evolutionary. It moves away from complexity toward simpler forms. In this sense, one can see the ordering force and the force of entropy as tending to oppose and balance each other. Since we have dubbed the ordering force as a life force, we can think of the force of entropy as a "death force" or "death wish," as all is consciousness and thought creates.

If we now look at the actions of the interlopers, we can see that they oppose the life force. Their principal activity sows dissent, competition instead of cooperation, and generally leads to a breakdown of any system that they penetrate successfully. They perceive of "self above all" as their guiding tenet, whereas the Adamic seed was designed to place self WITHIN the context of "all."

The Creator designed the Creation to reflect the Creator. The Creator is the source of the life force, the ordering principle that operates on the matrix of Mind and gives it form. The interlopers have distorted the original design, and we have been given the task of restoring all things to their original Divine estate. In the case of Earth, at this point in time that means to restore both the planet and its lifeforms to their original destiny plan—to their original evolutionary path.

The true human is a special case in the Creation. It shares many aspects with the Creator. If the Earth is in keeping with her blueprint, she will soon manifest as "The Garden" of the galaxy. And the true humans will act as her "Gardeners," in keeping with their stewardship role. Since Operation Terra is intended to restore Earth to her true destiny path, it follows that the so-called human beings must also be restored to theirs—to become true humans.

What does this mean? To understand the answer to this, one must look at what has changed. The DNA, which carries the codes for the operation of all the bodily processes, must be restored and elevated back to its original frequency of Light. The "shadows" cast by the interlopers must be cleansed and purified out of the system, and all of the entropic thoughtforms of separation, disease, and dying must be cleansed from the cellular memory patterns, which are carried in the DNA. Those portions of the DNA that were rendered inactive will have to be restored to full functionality, which carries with it the gift of full consciousness. If one could see the Light Bodies of animate forms, one would also see a web of infinitely delicate Light fibers interconnecting all things, all the way back to the Source. These connections funnel in through the subtle energy channels of the body—the meridians of acupuncture and the chakras and nadis of the Sanskrit-based languages and cultures.

To restore these energy channels to full function requires a purification. The source of this is the application of certain frequencies of sound and Light to gradually repair the "dropped connections." While it is true that there are many healers using the technologies of sound and Light, the kind of "remedy" needed to restore all the lifeforms of Earth (including the human beings) is beyond the ability of even the most gifted healers. The scope of the "operation" is simply too large for any individual or organization to provide. There is a time coming when an even greater amount of Light and sound will be available than has been in the past. The effect of this will be to shake loose anything that is not resonant with the original blueprint for the planet and all the lifeforms upon her. You have perhaps become familiar with "ultrasonic cleaning." This is a good metaphor for the process.

In ultrasonic cleaning, a piece of dirty jewelry is placed in a bath of cleaning solution. High-frequency sound waves move through the solution, shaking the dirt loose but leaving the jewelry intact. It's a very precise and safe method, as it does not disturb anything but the dirt that is encrusted on the jewelry.

Every lifeform is a jewel in the crown of the Creator. An order has gone forth through the Creation that the original blueprint must be restored. Accordingly, every aspect of the Creation that is not in keeping with its original blueprint will be restored. In this case, the distortions are being "bathed" in Love and high-frequency sound is being used to shake loose all the accumulated "dirt" that is keeping
