

ON PROBABILITIES

July 7, 1999

IN TODAY'S MESSAGE, WE WANT TO SPEAK ABOUT PROBABILITIES. You know how many are going about these days proclaiming that they know what is going to happen, that it will be such and such, and they are very sure that it will be as they say. However, NO ONE knows what is really going to happen, not even us, because there are only indications of what will "probably be" the case. We can say, with a reasonable degree of certainty, that such and such will probably be the outcome of certain observed trends, but no one can really be certain. The Creator is playing hide-and-seek with Itself and apparently even It likes to be surprised. It's what keeps the game interesting. If one could predict with absolute certainty everything that would happen, one would scarcely have to "get up in the morning." It would make for a very dull existence, indeed.

The whole reason the Creation was created was so that the Creator could experiment with ALL of the different possibilities (within certain parameters, called Universal Laws), so It could get to hide from Itself and so discover Itself in an unending mystery unfolding. The Creator "likes" to be surprised, because the reality game is Its only entertainment. Think about it: here you are, All That Is. Everything is contained within you, and you are everywhere at once. There is no place to "go" because you are already "there." So what do you do for entertainment? You surprise yourself.

with little slanty-eyed grey ETs. However sensational they are, and with them the tales of abductions, cattle mutilations, and sexual interchange, they are not all there is to this picture.

There are many faces interacting with your people right now. The most visible are the ones who are in the lower frequency bands, but there are also ones that operate in the higher frequency bands. They are only visible to you in your "inner" vision. We are in this latter category for now. We do not usually materialize in the physical band, although we can if we choose to. We are in the bands that contain those you would call Masters, angels, and archangels. We work with the Office of the Christ. (That is not a particular person, but an office or position within the spiritual hierarchy.)

We [the ETs] come in two "flavors," according to our alignment and methods of operation (M.O.). We either serve others ("service to others," also known as STO) or we serve ourselves ("service to self," also known as STS). No matter what our particular form—our apparent "planet of origin"—that is the most important thing for you to know about us. Are we STS or STO? That M.O. defines how we will interact with you and what our true motives are. STS always want something from you that serves their own agenda, but is not in your best interests. STO is there to be of assistance in whatever way does not infringe upon your free will and choice. No matter how sweet the words are, it is always useful in dealing with those who are of a culture foreign to your own ("alien" means "foreign") to ask yourselves, Who does this (action) serve? Is it in my best interests or theirs?

Now, as we have said, there is ONLY ONE LIFE being lived. No matter what the current "costume" is, or the apparent behavior, it is all an expression of that one life, which you may call God, the Creator, Source, or All That Is. All ETs are expressions of that one life. We are not wanting to get into "us" and "them" thinking, "enemies" and "friends" divisions, but rather to take two steps back and simply observe: Who is served?

Now that we have laid the groundwork and vocabulary, we will say that we are of the STO variety of ET. We are here to help you in any way that we can that will not infringe on your own free choice. The interlopers of whom we have spoken are of the other "flavor." They are STS in their M.O., and as such they are not bound by such constraints. They can and will infringe on your choice in any way that you LET them, but they cannot override your free will. If you do not want to deal with them, all you need to do is to assert your free will. Tell them to leave and they must obey. Wherever you carry fear, that is a weak point, a place where you are vulnerable, and they operate best by playing on your fears. This is always the case. If you feel helpless or afraid in some way, they have gained power over you, and gaining power is their whole game. They literally feed off of it. You have observed some of this kind of behavior among certain people on Earth. It is of the same "flavor," no matter where you find it. Always ask, "Who does it serve?"

We have spoken of the harvesting of souls and the different "destinations" that will be available after the Null Point. Where one ends up is dependent on the sum of the choices that have been made by the souls belonging to a particular Oversoul. There will be a certain "Light quotient" contained within the Oversoul after it has harvested all of the souls that belong to it and absorbed them. This Light quotient determines the level at which the Oversoul vibrates, or its frequency. You might be surprised to find out that Oversouls come in two flavors, as well. Both flavors exist because the Creator wanted to experience EVERYTHING, wanted to experience the full range of Its creative potential. It did not want to know Itself only by serving others. It wanted to know Itself in all the ways that were possible. All forms and behaviors still come back to the Creator wanting to explore and know Its full range of potential, nothing more and certainly nothing less.

It is so easy to label things. This is good; this is bad. The Creator just IS. It is neither good nor bad. It is not compassionate, merciful, angry, or punishing. It simply IS. Those attributes (compassion, anger, etc.) are projections upon a field of pure consciousness that is simply experimenting with all the possible ways of expression that are available to It. It is BOTH serving Itself and serving others. It serves others by creating them and allowing them to participate in the experience It is having. It serves Itself by creating others through which It experiences. There is ONLY ONE LIFE being lived.

It is the Creator, in its infinite array of forms or expressions.

That is the "absolute" way of looking at it. But you (and we) are also experiencing at the "relative" level of experience. Within that "relative" experience, there APPEARS to be "good" and "bad," STO and STS kinds of things and behaviors. They are "good" or "bad" only when compared to something else. That is the "relative" part—as one thing RELATES to (or refers to) something else. There is no way around this, as the Creator likes to play hide-and-seek with Itself, and so it hides in all forms while It seeks Itself. It makes things so much more interesting, as seen from the Creator's perspective, because there is so much more "grist for the mill." There is so much more to work with, and there is so much more variety available than there would be if things only came in one of these two flavors.

If there were only STO, things could get a little dull after awhile. If there were only STS, things wouldn't last very long, because the STS flavor, in serving only itself, is inherently predatory and destructive to everything else. It operates through competition, not cooperation. You can see the results on your own planet, which has been effectively destroyed by these self-serving behaviors on the part of so many.

But now we are at the time of Harvest, when each comes for their own and seeks to maximize their potential in the "great summing up" that is underway at this time. All of the Oversouls want to maximize their Light quotient, so their projections are going about gathering in more light of the flavor that they are made of. Both kinds of flavors are actively recruiting right now. The STS are seeking to increase their power, so they do what they can to increase the amount of fear in the environments in which they are operating. Fear gives them access, gives them power over those who are in fear. Since we have defined love (in part) as the absence of fear, you can see how love is the antithesis of what they would want you to feel in order to promote their agenda of gaining power. They can only gain power through others' fears, so wherever love is (as we have defined it), they are blocked from gaining power.

There are a great number of ETs interacting with Earth right now. They are here for many reasons—some to be active participants in the Harvest, and some to simply observe and learn from it. They come in both flavors. We are here to help you increase your Love and Light quotient. Others are here to increase fear and thus create more opportunities to increase their power over others. STS is always based on a master/slave hierarchical relationship. STS entities, regardless of origin, are always seeking to gain a foothold on someone else's shoulders so that they may gain power over others and climb up the rungs of their power hierarchy. STO is seeking to help other sovereign beings, to interact in ways that "level the playing field" and elevate all individuals to their maximum potential. STO revels in sharing the limitless wealth of the Creator's Love and Light, while STS seeks to accumulate as much of a "finite" amount of power as it can. The biggest laugh is that when viewed from the highest possible perspective, both flavors are seeking to become more like the Creator, but they seek it from opposite sides.

The Creator is the Source of all Love, Light, and Power. But the STO is not interested in power as much as it wishes to be empowered and to help others claim their "birthright," also—to share the limitless supply with others, because there is plenty for everyone. STS seeks to get, keep, and hoard as much power as it can, but the more successful it is, the lonelier it becomes. There actually comes a point when the STS is so lonely that it decides that it is tired of all that power, that the mere having of power is not satisfying when there is no one there to share it with. When an STS has reached that clarity of its position, then (and only then) its natural "next step" is to switch to the STO version of reality, and this is not as difficult as you might think. By the time an STS gets to that point, they have so thoroughly explored all the possible ways in which one gets and keeps power for itself, it has exhausted that set of possibilities. It has "been there, seen it, done it" with all of the possible experiences of that flavor and reached the end of its creative potential within that flavor, so it looks to the "greener pastures" of what it hasn't explored, jumps the fence, and quickly becomes an STO groupie.

ETs of both flavors are here to recruit (in the case of STS) or help (in the case of STO). The STS will try to keep those of the

OPERATION TERRA

to choose. There is an enormous amount of Grace available to help you move through your fear, but you must open yourself to receive it. Meditate. Breathe. Set aside some quiet time. Let the love come in. Let the fear go. You are safe. You cannot be destroyed. You do not have to "die." You are immortal beings, about to go on the adventure you have dreamed of, waking and sleeping. Terra calls.

We leave you now, in peace and honor and blessing. We shall speak to you again. Amen, Adonoy, Sabayoth. We are the Hosts of Heaven.

SUMMING UP

July 10, 1999

TODAY WE WISH TO SPEAK TO YOU ABOUT the forthcoming Earth changes and the effects they will have upon the various lifeforms upon the planet. For some time now, we have been acting as conservators of certain species, to preserve them and their genetics for inhabiting the new planet, Terra. On Terra, everything will exist in an exalted state, not only in consciousness, but also in the forms that outpicture that changed consciousness. Every lifeform will be exquisite. Everything will be glorified, as Earth takes her rightful place as the jewel of the galaxy.

Toward this end, many of the species will be leaving the planet altogether. Those we have not collected, as they will no longer be present on Earth when she assumes her new form. These are principally those creatures that are part of the cycle of death, disease, and decay. There are some that will undergo a fundamental change in their nature, primarily those that have functioned as pets for humans, but others also. This is where the prediction that the "lion shall lie down with the lamb" comes from. Certain carnivores will change their essential nature in order to live on Terra and be part of that habitat.

Those aside, the other forms of life that are predators, disease-bearers, and those that participate in the breakdown of forms transformed or eliminated from the Terran "list" of lifeforms. (It should be noted that entirely new lifeforms, from other parts of the galaxy, will be "transplanted" to Terra, just as you transplant exotic plants into your gardens that are not native to your area.)

The Earth changes are part of this process. They serve several purposes. The first and primary purpose is as we stated: to cleanse the Earth of her accumulated burden of negativity—those thought-forms and energies that are of the lower frequencies and would keep her from her own ascension to the next frequency band of reality. The second purpose is to assist in the facilitation of getting all things to their own "right place." This is a special function being overseen by Archangel Michael and us, the Hosts of Heaven. (We are the "heavenly hosts" being spoken of in the expressions "Lord of Hosts" and the "Legions of Michael.") We have this special function to perform—to see to it that all things get to their "right place." You might think of us as traffic directors or logistics specialists. Your taxi and police dispatchers perform a similar function. They get the workers to the right spot at the right time to assist those who need assistance. The Earth changes serve other purposes, also, including making the third-density form of Earth uninhabitable for an extended period, so that the new world has all the attention it needs to be fully born.

We have spoken of Earth (and Terra) in terms of being the garden spot of the galaxy. In good stewardship of the land, each portion must be allowed to lie fallow for a time, in order for balance to be restored and nutrients to be replenished. The Earth has been sucked dry, all of her precious gifts mined beyond the state where they can naturally recover in a short period of time. You might say that humans have been living off their grandchildren's inheritance for some time, so the Earth changes will also serve to give Earth the very long period she needs to regain balance and restore herself. Those who are to inhabit the new Earth, Terra, will be housed in places that help them prepare for the new reality that they are to inherit. Terra is already in existence but not yet visible, as the human frequencies have not yet risen to the level they must be at to be able to perceive and experience her as a physical reality.

A time is coming in which all that has been built upon the planet in terms of artificial structures will be leveled. Underground structures will not be so affected, but there is no point in looking to them for sustenance, as there will not be anything left alive on the surface. You can lay up stores of food, sources of energy, and implements, but you cannot prepare to live out the long period in which third density Earth will lie fallow. It is too long a time. The fourth density Earth—Terra—already exists, pristine, fertile, and exquisitely beautiful. Only those forms that are vibrating at that frequency will be compatible with her, so one cannot do anything but prepare to be one of those. Otherwise, you will experience a different outcome.

Not only the artificial structures will be leveled. In your scriptures, it says that the valleys will be raised up and the mountains laid low. This is the smoothing out of the planetary surface that we referred to, the elimination of the stored energies contained in the lines of stress in the crust called "faults." But Terra will be smooth for another reason. "Form follows function," is another of your sayings. As we have spoken before, Terra will be a fourth-density planet, of the STO orientation. In STO, everyone and everything is sovereign. It does not exist except to express itself within the context of the whole. There is no hoarding or accumulation of wealth by the few, for there is enough to be shared by all. And none shall experience poverty or want of any kind. In the elevated state of consciousness of Terra, all will live as royalty, for all will create whatever pleases them to create. The planet will be smooth to outpicture the smoothness of life, the equality of all within the Creation, and the total abundance that is available to those who are in alignment with Universal Laws.

We wish you to hear these things in the proper perspective. Nothing perishes. It only changes form. The form that is appropriate to Terra is the exalted version of what you see about you now. Things must either change or go somewhere else. The planet herself is about to change her form in drastic ways. These cataclysmic changes are the healing process that the planet must go through to achieve her destiny. It is all in Divine Order that this happens, and it is within Divine Order that it happens now, at this particular point in the planet's history. The window will open to provide the way,

"Simply put, synchronicity is the visible signal that shows us we have connected to and aligned within a greater stream of intelligence, a wholeness beyond ourselves—perhaps even the true source of our inner being. When we are "on course," even for a moment, synchronicity tells us so. It gives us the feedback we need to recognize that an alignment has occurred."

—Future Memory, by P.M.H. Atwater, page 86

IT'S ALL GOD

June 22, 2000

"IN THE BEGINNING, GOD CREATED THE HEAVENS AND THE EARTH." This is what it says; this is how it is written in the scriptures with which you are so familiar. But it is not really how it was.

In the beginning there was God, and God was and IS "All There Is." It is still God. And so God did not, in that sense, create anything that is not God. There is a tendency to view the Creation as both a product of and separate from the Creator. But this is an impossibility. The very being and substance of the Creator penetrates all form and is indeed an expression, an outgrowth as it were, of the one body. Just as you have hairs on your head or lashes on your eyelids, so it is with every form of Creation: they are springing forth from the single body, from God.

We who speak to you are but a facet of that one Creator; you are but a facet of that one Creator. It is God who speaks through you and through us, because we are all God. That is not to say that we ARE the Creator, but rather a part of the Creator an expression of the Creator, a form that resides WITHIN the Creator. Nothing is outside of God, you know, but this is an expression that is limited by the language of words. When you are on Terra, you will have the full experience of being totally in oneness with the Creator, where your body will be experiencing itself as constantly emerging from the substance of the Creator, the matrix and ground of all

And so this Creator interpenetrates all things. All things have consciousness. All things are part of that Creator. Now look about you, to your beautiful planet and see the devastation upon one part of the Creator by another part of the Creator. Is this not madness? Would you mutilate your own body if you were aware of what you were doing? We think not. And yet that is what has happened to this beautiful planet and continues to happen, even now, at this late hour.

The forests are being felled at a record rate. It is almost like a feeding frenzy, as the last giants of the forest are toppled to build yet more products for yet more people, and so it goes. Even the smaller trees are being harvested in this mad rush to consume, consume, consume, until there is nothing left.

Yes, we have spoken of the Earth changes. Yes, they are underway as we speak now. But even if there were no Earth changes, this mad rush to claim for oneself the last of the dwindling resources of Earth would soon render the planet unfit for all life, most particularly for human habitation. So, in some ways, the Earth changes are a merciful thing, to stop the process from proceeding to the place where untold suffering would be the result.

There has been enough killing; there has been enough eradication of species. And if humankind is to progress, and survive, and THRIVE, this desecration of this beautiful planet must end, and soon, before it is all way too late.

But it is all in Divine order. These are all parts of the experiment that was ordained from the foundation of the Creation. These apparent destructions are still the Will of God, which is sometimes difficult to understand for those who are still in separation. But when you are no longer in separation, you will be in a place where one can see, understand, feel, and embrace the wholeness of it, without getting caught up in the drama of it.

And so Earth is in her final hour of her travail, and humankind is dancing at the last big party. Many there are who are aware or sensing at some level of their being that the end is near, and so there is an apparent disregard for what is prudent and a kind of reckless abandon to consume yet even more. There is complaint about the high price of gas, and quarreling about how difficult it is to have to pay such high prices. What will the tumult be if the gas is no longer available? And that is surely an outcome. The supplies are not infinite. Yes, they are vast, but so is the sea of humanity, and the demand for more and more oil is insatiable.

It is also very destructive—of the environment, of the air, of the waters. The oil is used to create so many things that do not degrade once they are discarded, so you are burying yourself in your own filth, in your own refuse. The tragedy is that what was once a beautiful garden is gradually being turned into a garbage dump. What a desecration! And yet, it was all foreseen. It is now time for that to come to a close, and it will not be a gentle birth, because of the tensions that remain in the Earth's crust, reflecting her absorption of so much negative energy.

We have not yet touched on the heart of the matter. We are, in a sense, preparing the stage for the drama that will now unfold. It is almost time for the cataclysms, and we want to prepare you and prepare you well for what to expect, and how things will go for those who are destined for Terra and those who are not. If you are among those who are destined for Terra, you will be witnessing a rather strange sight, for as the world around you crumbles and dissolves into entropy and death, you will find yourselves prospering and moving up to a new level of abundance, joy, and well-being. It is you who have suffered for so long, and now it is your time in the light. And those who have become inebriated on the excess of consumption will now pay that price.

We do not say that in judgment, but rather as assessing the situation for what it is. The preliminary earthquakes have come and gone, and now there will be a brief pause and then the next level of cleansing will take place. Soon, your news media will not be able to ignore the phenomena of Earth changes. It will be in everyone's face. There will be an increase in concern and fear as these things unfold and become more established as a pattern, rather than isolated events. You might think that the Earth—through these various small earthquakes—could release sufficient crustal tension, that it will not have to result in anything more severe. However, there is such an accumulation of negative thought energy that has been absorbed by the planet that it all must be purged.

ven as your own bodies are being purged, so must the Earth's body be purged and cleansed.

And so this will result in Earth changes and geophysical events, not only of a much greater magnitude than is normally experienced, but also a greater frequency and persistence. This first muster is essentially over, with a few isolated aftershocks. However, a time that is very soon at hand, no later than July, we shall be witnessing the next level of cleansing at the Earth level, which will take several forms. Not only will there be tectonic movement and volcanic eruptions, but there will be other types of things, as foretold in the Book of Revelation in the Bible.

There will be many strange phenomena in Nature. There will be a rain of "plagues" akin to that described in the time of Egypt, in the story of Moses, and there is much sorrow coming in the cleansing of the planet because she has absorbed so much sorrow that she does not want to carry any more, nor does it serve her to carry it. For what she is becoming is Terra, the glorious jewel in the crown of Creation, and in which there is no place for sorrow and tears, only joy and love, and all these matters of the third density shall soon pass away.

The cleansing will be complete this time, not partial as in other times, for none of the old can be taken into the new. You yourselves are being purged of your cellular memory and so it is with the Earth. The Earth is a living being, and her body is riddled with "dis-ease" over all the things that have been done to her, plus having absorbed all the pain and sorrow of the thoughtforms that have been experienced or projected by humankind. And the pain and sorrow of the animals is felt also. Many of you do not realize that animals are fully conscious and do have bonds among them and do have energetic exchange in their own form of communication. Animals are not rightfully your slaves, or pets, or possessions, and on Terra, all animals will be free.

And so now we would speak to you of the times ahead. In the very shorter term, there will be increased disturbances and ruptures, not only in geophysical changes, but also in the fabric of society. The tension is growing, the clamor for people to "do something" is rising, and there is great discontent growing in the face of apparent prosperity. There are dark clouds gathering, economically and socially. There are going to be eruptions, like boils of a disease. There will be cleansings within the populations of Earth, as well as the planet. There are going to be strange diseases, of a mental, emotional, and physical nature—many plagues of many kinds. Some will be engineered by humankind and those of a despotic nature, and some will be mutations of existing microbes, as a result of the changing frequency and the increasing amount of higher-frequency light, known to you as the ultraviolet. The hole in the ozone layer is of course part of the equation, and is man-created, but once again, we would say that ALL of this has been scheduled and is by a combined collective soul choice.

All of you who have been battling for the light, and carrying the light, and pleading to be heard, and all of those of you who have tried to stop the destruction and the devastation and the greed and the corruption—all of you have labored and labored well, but it seems that evil (or what you would call as "evil") will have its day.

Once again, we would remind you that this is all of the Creator and is the Creator-in-expression. It is difficult from your perspective of separation to understand how a loving or benevolent Creator could allow such things to happen, or that such a beautiful planet would be sacrificed in such a way. But this story HAS a happy ending, and we wish to remind you of that.

The Creator, being the Creator, wishes to experience everything. Not just the things that are pleasurable. It wants to explore ALL the possibilities, all the combinations and permutations, and indeed this causes much apparent suffering. But there is also a place for joy in this Creation. It is in short supply upon your planet at the moment, but that will radically change after the shift.

And so now we return to the days ahead. There will be much, much disharmony, disruption, chaos, fear, destruction, loss of life, loss of property, loss on all sides—or so it will seem. But at the same time, those of you who are destined for Terra will find yourselves prospering and enjoying a much happier state of affairs than you have in the years leading up to now. We wish to support you in your last days on Earth and make them pleasurable, for you have served and served well, and now it is time to "gather the troops,"

ALLOW ALL THINGS

September 28, 2000

IN THE BEGINNING THERE WAS NO-THING Then arose a thought and out of that thought all things came into being. At first, there was only harmony, but not much "progress" was made, because while all things were in harmony, there was not much impetus for change or exploration of alternative paths. The Thinker of the thought noticed this, and It thought another thought. This second thought introduced the idea of opposites, which could clash and therefore produce striving. All that you see around you now is a result of that striving.

If all had remained as One, nothing of the richness you see in your lives would have occurred. A great abundance of forms and a great abundance of possibilities thus was created, and the original thought was greatly expanded by this choice on the part of the Thinker, but also at a great price. Know you the expression, "the pearl of great price"? This is the price of which we speak.

As things unfold upon your planet and in your time, these two opposites will increase their movement toward opposite poles. All that is in the middle will either move to the poles or perish, in order to begin again on another world where they will have more opportunities to explore the choice of the opposites. When we say "perish," however, we refer only to their physical bodies. Their Oversouls will persist and simply put forth other projections of themselves into the worlds that await on the other side of the shift.

ALL Oversouls are withdrawing their projections now, so even those who will ride this shift intact, in the vehicle that they presently occupy, there will only be one projection from the oversoul that rides the wave of change. How, then, are you to view all this, and what will be the process and experience of going first to the poles and then to your destined exit path from 3D Earth to 4D Terra?

To begin with, there will be an intensification of the polarities. Those who are inclined toward the positive, or STO pole will become more so, and those who are inclined toward the negative, or STS pole will also become more so. This creates the maximum energetic potential, but it also creates the greatest disharmony, as the two poles interact. How can you experience this journey with the least amount of friction? You disengage from fighting the negativity and withdraw into a world that is solely of your pole, that is totally harmonious for you.

"But what about evil?" you cry. What you call evil is but a choice. Do you remember the teaching in the Bible to "resist not evil"? In order to have the smoothest transition to your destined outcome, you must allow all things. You must allow all choices, and that includes the choice for the negative path. If you engage with "evil," you bind your energies to conflict and you cannot experience peace and harmony while you are fighting against someone else's choice. Allow all things. Allow all soul choices. Allow, allow, allow.

Many of you refer to those whom you call Masters. We would say to you that OUR definition of a Master is one who is so expanded in their understanding that he or she takes in ALL within them, within their embrace, and holds it without preference, without saying or feeling that any part is better than any other part. When you are fully born into your new awareness, a great understanding will fill you. You will "see" for the first time since taking on the veil which hides the truth from your sight. You will see all things in their right place and in their right meaning. But for now, you only see part of the picture, so in remembering that there is more going on than what you can perceive, you will again be called to surrender and to allow all things. You are not in charge. You are not the force that drives the creation forward. But you are an aspect of this force in action, and therefore you WILL at some point regain the full understanding of the nature of that force and your own true nature.

Until then, until you do have full understanding, recognize and accept that your understanding is to one degree or another limited, and so allow all things, for you do not know their hidden purpose. You do not know how it serves. If you are ASKED, then by all means respond as you feel is right to do. But more will be saying and telling than will be asking. More will be shouting and even screaming in their fear than will be asking. If someone asks, then and only then should you answer, but if no one is asking, remain in your center and rooted in the truth of your being and your choice for the pole you have chosen.

Resist not evil. Resist not anything. Surrender to the higher intelligence that guides your every step and simply ask when you have doubts of your own, "How shall I be with this (situation)? What is right action here?" But always come from your center, your knowing about what is true for you. Be content to make your own choice for yourself, and allow others to do the same. What does it gain if you try to "rescue" someone? You have only delayed their opportunity to make their own choices.

On Terra all will be sovereign. To be sovereign means to be willing to be totally alone in one's own understanding, to be beyond being able to be coerced or manipulated. Many great sages and warriors in many traditions have had this quality. You must be warriors now, only warriors in the sense of standing firm in the midst of the impending chaos, not in resisting any of that which will now play out. Be calm in the midst of the storm. Keep breathing. Meditate. Keep grounding the Light that is streaming in to the planet now. Keep opening the channel of your bodies and ground the Light into the planet. Empty out until you are like a hollow reed, able to simply allow all things to pass through you. The cleansing is underway and will accelerate with the passage of time. Allow, allow, allow.