

a thousand lights underneath it, all the lights, no matter what it was, they were all pale blue lights. It was really high, but you could see everything, I reckon you could have got three 747 Jumbo jets, wing-tip to wing-tip, across the middle. I know that you say, hold a ten P piece up at arm's length ... if you had held up a cricket bat, that would have been more like it! It really was massive.

"At intervals, I put my head down and tried to remember what was what, then I looked up again to check, I was doing this and then I thought, the length, how can

I get the length? I thought an imaginary plumb line, one at each end. I thought, one end was more or less over the river at Hull and the other end at Greenwood Avenue.

Anyway the next day, I took the car and set the day-trip on the speedo and drove from one point to the other and it was seven-tenths of a mile! It could have been a little smaller, but it rules out 20 feet and rules out half a mile. I know it seems really bizarre, but that's what it was (Lights were reported by several witnesses during the same period). ■

A BUFFALO MUTILATION CASE IN CANADA.

© By GRAHAM CONWAY, Chairman of UFO*BC & FSR Consultant.

In a report dated September 15, 1995, from Mr. Ken Smith, owner of a ranch near Southwest Francois Lake (97 kms. southwest of Burns Lake) British Columbia, I received details of what appears to be the "first ever" recorded case of a buffalo mutilation. ("Buffalo" = North American Bison).

I visited the area and met Mr. Smith and inspected the scene with him. Mr. Smith explained that he had a number of buffalos on his property. The mutilated one, a cow, was found lying dead only 300 ft. from his house. His dog, normally an extremely alert animal, had apparently not barked or reacted in any way.

The udder of the buffalo cow had been removed cleanly, as well as the entire rectum and vagina, all excised with total surgical precision in a perfect circle. The nose also was missing and, of course, as usual, there was not the slightest trace of blood anywhere except a tiny amount around the nasal area.

Mr. Smith noted that, while the carcass seemed to deteriorate faster than cattle carcasses usually do, no bird or animal predator would touch it, and for days it remained totally free even of maggots. He told me that bison, when one of their herd dies, have the habit of coming up and "nudging the carcass with their heads". but in this case they did not. And even the dead cow's own calf would not approach the body.

All these details confirm a typical mutilation. ■

MAILBAG: CAT MUTILATIONS.

Dear Gordon

With reference to your Editorial in FSR 43/4 (mutilated cats), I don't know whether you recall this, but I did submit to you, about five years ago, a report about these cases of dead cats in the London area. It had all been given to me by a lady, living here in Devonshire, who operated a "Find a Pet" scheme. And, by the way, note this very important point! She said that the Metropolitan (i.e. London) Police had actually told her that "it was not the work of the usual gangs."

In my report to you I linked it all to similar cases reported from Canada, in one of which the cat had been cut in half and then dumped on its owner's lawn.

At the time I chanced to have Linda Moulton Howe staying with me overnight, and she had been most interested in it!

In my report I enclosed the original Canadian press-cuttings, received by me from Graham Conway.

Linda Moulton Howe took away my file, as every single case had the same two features -the body bloodless and the head missing At the same time I also gave in my report British cases of headless seagulls and headless seals. Yours sincerely.

[Yes, I am sorry! I remember it vaguely now. As Editor of FSR, I find it a total impossibility to keep in mind the vast flood of material that continues to descend upon me every day. Our files on animal mutilations alone are dauntingly thick, and most of the material has come from Joan Amos who keeps an extremely close watch on this particular part of the whole UFO problem. DID ALIENS ABDUCT THE PRESIDENT?

© By PETER BRONSON, Editor of Cincinnati Enquirer.

[I always look forward, every day, to the American contents of the FSR mail-bag, for they are an unfailing source of good stuff, even if all else has failed. It so happens that our excellent friend and excellent FSR Consultant Don Worley was interviewed recently by Peter Bronson, the Editor of an important American newspaper, The Cincinnati Enquirer, and this newspaper published an account of it in its issue for November 30, 1998. Don Worley has just sent me the text of it, and here it is! I hope it "makes your day", as it made mine.-G.C.]

Maybe you think Men in Black was just a movie. Maybe you scoff at crop circles, tales of mysteriously mutilated cattle and the "Top Secret" room at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base where crashed aliens are preserved in jars like Lenin at the Kremlin.

Then again, maybe you are in for a Publisher's Clearing House surprise "You May Already Be an Alien!"

Today's column is brought to you in the spirit of open-minded scientific inquiry -and a desperate attempt to find something to write about besides Bill and Monica. Besides, it's close to Halloween.

So, what if....

Maybe you've seen bright lights in the night sky. Maybe you have lost hours that you can't remember or explain. Maybe you've tossed and turned in a straitjacket nightmare of balloon-headed people with big cat eyes, then climbed out of bed in someone else's pyjamas.

Welcome to the not-so-distant world of alien abductions.

"A lot of the abductees I deal with are on the edge," said Don Worley, 77 of Connersville, In., just a few crop circles across the Ohio border. He should know. "As an investigator-researcher for 33 long years now, I have handled 112 abduction cases", he wrote. "If I don't know what is going on by now, who in God's name would?"

Mr. Worley is reluctant to talk on the phone. "You never know who's listening" he said after a burst of static. Hmmm.

But he was kind enough to explain:

Men in Black: "That movie was a joke. Men in Black is the real thing. They don't seem to be human. They threaten UFO witnesses. These things show up a day or so later at the door to scare the wits out of someone. I know, that's pretty far-out stuff."

Cat-mutes (mutilated cattle corpses found out West): "They (aliens) have taken tons and tons of cow parts. There's just a big cavity they leave in the cow."

Abductions: In numerous articles, Mr. Worley has written about cases such as the woman who "wore her Victoria's Secret nightgown to bed, and returned wearing a man's oversized shirt."

Or the man who was abducted and found himself in a space ship, with nothing to offer to tall, gray aliens but a $20 bill. He never saw the money again, but found burned circles in the grass where he'd been standing.

Or the abductee who set off slot-machine jackpots just by walking by.

Mr. Worley warns, "If you disturb street lights, radios, computers or similar devices, you need to find out what is going on in your life."

Many abductees are terrorised for life, he said, but some don't know they have been abducted. Implants reprogram them and erase their memories.

Maybe you laugh. Or maybe you're one of them. But serious, credentialed academics have interviewed abductees and insist the stories are true.

The internet is loaded with UFO sites, including an article by 1977 Pulitzer Prize winner John E. Mack, "an M.D. affiliated with Harvard who believes that aliens routinely abduct Midwestern housewives and perform strange experiments on them".

"It appears that we can be 'invaded' or taken over." Dr. Mack writes, "if not literally by other creatures, then by some other form of being or consciousness that seems able to do with us what it will for a purpose we cannot yet fathom."

And there's Temple University professor David M. Jacobs, whose book, The Threat, describes "the systematic and clandestine physiological exploitation, and perhaps alteration, of human beings for the purposes of passing on their genetic capabilities to progeny who will integrate into the human society and, without doubt, control it."

Mr. Worley says it in ordinary, terrestrial, Indiana English. "Quite literally, the aliens are into us like mice in Swiss cheese."

It's not a sci-fi invasion -it's infiltration, using "halfings" and clones spawned from abducted humans, to enslave us all.

It made me wonder: Are there crop circles in the Rose Garden? Has the President been abducted lately? Is Hillary a "halfing"? Was that tall alien who took the $20 bill actually Al Gore?

"No, the stories are unrelated," Mr. Worley insisted. "Monicagate is just a distraction compared to this story."

Dr. Mack seems to agree: "Abductees do not appear to be deluded, confabulating, lying, self-dramatizing or suffering from a clear mental illness."

That appears to rule out the Clintons.

But, part of me hopes Mr. Worley is right. We could use a distraction. And if we make contact, I have a request for the aliens:

"If y'all beam up Bill Clinton, don't send him back in someone else's underwear. Just keep him. Thank you."
